Subject: The Importance of Your AKC Delegate
Date: July 14, 2010

Dear AKC Member Club Officer:

Your Delegate is the voice of your club to the AKC and can make a real difference in matters of great importance to the sport. Therefore understanding the roles and responsibilities of your Delegate is critical to the success of the missions of your club and the AKC.

The Delegate Advocacy and Advancement Committee (DAAC), a committee of eleven Delegates elected by the Delegate Body, was asked to establish guidelines for Clubs for both selecting and supporting Delegates who will be good for their respective Clubs, the Delegate Body, the AKC and the Sport of Dogs.

The memorandum below entitled The Importance of Your AKC Delegate provides those guidelines. It is being distributed to AKC Member Clubs' Officers, and we suggest that it be distributed to the clubs' board and members.

Our hope is that the information in this document will be a resource for your Club and that you will see the value that your Delegate brings to your Club and to your Club's position within the AKC's governance.

Thank you for your attention to this information and your support of your AKC Delegate.

Signed:
Delegate Advocacy and Advancement Committee
